

GDPR privacy notice

Who

Jeans Design & Communications collects and processes personal data as mentioned in the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) in order to supply our services. If you have any questions or requests about the information below you can contact Ronald Jeans by email at ronald@jeansdesign.net or by telephone at 0031-497591089.

What

We collect and process the following personal data that you have supplied to us using our services: name, address, VAT number and bank account number of your company, phone number and email address.

Why

We collect and process these data in order to supply our services to you, to keep in contact with you and for payment and tax purposes and obligations.

When

We keep these data for the period we supply our services to you and for the period that legislation requires this from us (think of tax requirements).

Security

We do our utmost to protect your personal data and have security measurements in place to prevent loss and unauthorized access, use, alteration or disclosure of the data.

Others

We do not sell the data to third parties. We will only supply some of the data to third parties if and as far as necessary for the fulfillment of our services to you.

Your rights

You have the rights under the rules of the GDPR: to see the data we keep on you, to request rectification or removal of the data, to object to processing of the data, to request data portability. Please bear in mind though that if you request your data to be removed, it may be impossible for us to supply you with our services.

You have the right to lodge a complaint with the "Autoriteit Persoonsgegevens" in the Netherlands.